HOTEL INDIGO®

We were approached by one of the leading hotel chains in the world, the IHG group to create two websites for their brand-new Indigo hotels in Inuyama and Karuizawa, Japan. Known for their unfailing service, hospitality, and luxury lifestyle, we worked to showcase the essence of Intercontinental living through sleek and sophisticated website design.

The digital experience reflects the brand's character while seamlessly integrating IHG's booking system legacy. The visual storytelling found in the rotating gallery of Special Offers was designed to uncover the relaxed luxury in both Indigo hotel Karuizawa and Indigo hotel Inuyama.

Razilia envisions a platform where people can buy sports memorabilia items through a group purchasing concept, called a Razz. Razilia came to us to bring their idea to life. We worked on Razilia's web design and development from scratch, building a customized auction system as well as integrating legal lottery bidding and payment system into the platform.

We worked with one of the coolest graffiti artists on the block; Rick Pringles, who found galleries at the end of the highways, walls, subways, and everything in between. Long remained in the shadows due to his intense professional activities, Rick Pringles decided to make himself known to the general public with a website that represent the true spirit of his art.

We worked on website design and web development from scratch to showcase Rick Pringles' unprecedented visuals. The Rick Pringles website serves both as a company profile of the artist and an e-commerce platform for painting, arts, and items sold by auction.
